

Gerhard Richter (Edinburgh 21 Nov 08)

Tamara Trodd

GERHARD RICHTER: NEW APPROACHES

Hawthornden Lecture Theatre, National Gallery of Scotland, Edinburgh

Friday 21 November, 10am-5pm (registration 9.30-10am). Pound 20 (10) includes entry to the exhibition.

Organised by the National Galleries of Scotland, in collaboration with the Goethe Institut Glasgow and the Universities of Glasgow, Edinburgh and St Andrews, this symposium brings together a range of international scholars to open up new perspectives on the painting practice of Gerhard Richter. Papers will address the full diversity of Richter's practice, including his use of drawing, his early work in East Germany and his relationship to Pop art and his continuing relevance to contemporary art.

Speakers include Dietmar Elger (Head of the Richter archive, Dresden), Jeanne Nugent (NYU), Christine Mehring (University of Chicago) and Mark Godfrey (Tate Modern).

For further details or to book tickets contact:

T.Trodd@arthist.arts.gla.ac.uk,

or visit:

<http://www.nationalgalleries.org>

Reference:

CONF: Gerhard Richter (Edinburgh 21 Nov 08). In: ArtHist.net, Sep 30, 2008 (accessed Dec 18, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/30730>>.