

MPSA Political Science Conf. (Chicago, 2-5 Apr 09)

MPSA

(Deadline: 10 Oct 2008)

The Midwest Political Science Association, like most academic associations, charges higher conference registration rates for nonmembers than to members. Hoping to continue to increase attendance by people outside of political science and related fields at its annual meeting, the Association will begin charging registrants who 1) have academic appointments outside of political science or related fields (policy, public administration and political economy) and 2) do not have a PhD in political science or the same related fields, conference registration rates equal to the low member registration rates.

The call for papers for the 2009 meeting, due October 10, is at <http://www.mpsanet.org/~mpsa/index.html>.

Call for Papers for the 67th MPSA National Conference,
April 2-5, 2009,
Palmer House Hilton Hotel, Chicago

Submission Deadline: October 10, 2008.
www.mpsanet.org

Please share this with members of your department who might be interested.

Submit a proposal to present at the 2009, MPSA National Conference. With over 900 sessions and over 3,000 papers, it is one of the largest in the discipline.

There are many interdisciplinary sections at the conference, including:

Politics and Religion, Asian Politics
Political Psychology, European Politics
Political Anthropology, Latin American Politics
Internat'l & Comparative Law, Politics of the Middle East
Political Philosophy, Canadian Politics
Political Sociology & Culture, African Politics
Economic Policy, Race, Class & Ethnicity
Politics and History, Gender & Politics
Political Geography

With an exhibit hall that is over 50,000 square feet, there are many book publishers and acquisition editors. We also offer a free job placement service for attendees.

To submit a proposal, and for travel and hotel information, please go to www.mpsanet.org

Midwest Political Science Association
320 W 8th Street, #218
Bloomington, IN 47404
www.mpsanet.org

If you received this email in error, please contact info@mpsanet.org

Jeff Segal, President
Midwest Political Science Association
320 W 8th Street, #218
Bloomington, IN 47404
www.mpsanet.org

Reference:

CFP: MPSA Political Science Conf. (Chicago, 2-5 Apr 09). In: Arthist.net, Sep 27, 2008 (accessed Sep 17, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/30784>>.