

The Image of Peru. History and Art (Los Angeles, 17-18 Oct 08)

Evelyn Sen

The Image of Peru: History and Art, 1550-1880

Presented by the Getty Research Institute

October 17-18, 2008

Museum Lecture Hall

The Getty Center

Friday, October 17, 2008

10:00a - 5:00p

Saturday, October 18, 2008

9:00a - 5:30p (standby available as space allows)

Museum Lecture Hall

This two-day symposium focuses on the visual representation of Peru from the colonial period through the nineteenth century. Along with the exhibition it accompanies, the symposium is the culmination of a project to study, publish, and exhibit two illuminated chronicles of the history of Peru written by the Spanish Mercedarian friar Martín de Murúa, and illustrated by at least two artists, including the native Peruvian Felipe Guaman Poma de Ayala.

For more information and to make a reservation:

http://www.getty.edu/research/scholarly_activities/events/peru.html

See related exhibition (closes on October 19)

<http://www.getty.edu/art/exhibitions/peru/>

Reference:

CONF: The Image of Peru. History and Art (Los Angeles, 17-18 Oct 08). In: ArtHist.net, Oct 10, 2008 (accessed Sep 20, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/30926>>.