Terra Foundation for American Art Travel Grants

The Terra Foundation for American Art is offering, in partnership with the Courtauld Institute of Art, London, the Institut National de l'Histoire de l'Art, Paris, and the John F. Kennedy Institut für Nordamerikastudien, Freie Universität, Berlin, six travel grants for researchers whose research project concerns American art or transatlantic artistic relations. Foreign nationals of all European countries can apply for these grants according to their level of study.

Three grants of US$5,000 each will be offered to researchers at doctoral level.

Three grants of US$7,500 each will be offered to post-doctoral researchers who have been awarded their doctorate within the past ten years.

Applications must be sent to either the Courtauld Institute of Art, the Institut National de l'Histoire de l'Art or the John F. Kennedy Institut für Nordamerikastudien and must include

An official Terra Foundation Travel Grant application form

The applicant's curriculum vitae

A description of the applicant's research project demonstrating the need for a sojourn in the United States of America

Two letters of recommendation. (For doctoral candidates, one of these letters should be by the dissertation advisor.)

All documents must be written in English.

Pre-selection of candidates will be undertaken by each of the three institutions named above and will be followed by a final selection in March 2009 by a five-member international jury. Selection results will be published in April 2009.

Applications made through the John-F.-Kennedy-Institut should be sent to:
