

Lectureship in Modern and Contemporary Art (York)

Jo Applin

University of York

Department of History of Art

History of Art is a large department with a strong research and teaching record. The newly published Research Assessment Exercise (RAE) has confirmed History of Art at York as one of the top-ranking research departments in the UK. <http://www.york.ac.uk/depts/histart/>

We are now looking to appoint a Lecturer in the field of modern and contemporary art (1900 to the present).

We shall consider highly qualified candidates with a strong research profile, with a particular preference for those whose research has an international focus.

Informal enquiries may be made to the Head of Department, Professor Mark Hallett, email: mlh5@york.ac.uk.

Starting salary will be £35,469 per annum. The post is available from 1 October 2009, or as soon as possible thereafter.

Closing date: Tuesday, 24 February 2009

For further information and to apply on-line, please visit our website:

<http://www.york.ac.uk/jobs/>.

Alternatively contact HR Services on 01904 434835 quoting reference number UoY00252.

The University of York is committed to diversity and has policies and developmental programmes in place to promote equality of opportunity.

Reference:

JOB: Lectureship in Modern and Contemporary Art (York). In: ArtHist.net, Feb 16, 2009 (accessed Jan 22, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/31268>>.