COLLOQUIUM

Walls of Algiers: Reconsidering the Colonial Archive

Thursday, May 28, 2009

3:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.

The Getty Center

Presented in conjunction with the new GRI exhibition Walls of Algiers: Narratives of the City, this colloquium places the exhibit in a theoretical and historical context, and addresses issues of colonial and postcolonial dilemmas.

"Walls of Algiers: Reconsidering the Colonial Archive" examines questions raised by the Getty Research Institute's exhibition Walls of Algiers: Narratives of the City. Situating the exhibition in a theoretical and historical context, this colloquium considers the nature of the exhibition documents and addresses broader issues in colonial and post-colonial dilemmas. Walls of Algiers: Narratives of the City, curated by Frances Terpak and Zeynep Çelik, is on display in the Exhibition Gallery of the Getty Research Institute (GRI) from May 19–October 18, 2009.

PUBLICATION

Walls of Algiers: Narratives of the City Through Text and Image

Edited by Zeynep Celik, Julia Clancy-Smith, and Frances Terpak

Walls of Algiers examines the historical processes that transformed Ottoman Algiers, the "Bulwark of Islam", into "Alger la blanche", the colonial urban showpiece -- and, after the outbreak of revolution in 1954 -- counter-model of France's global empire. In this volume, the city of Algiers serves as a case study for the analysis of the proactive and reactive social, political, technical, and artistic forces that generate a city's form. Its contributors' innovative methodologies allow important insights into often overlooked aspects of life in a city whose name even today conjures up enchantment as well as incomprehensible violence.
