

Welcome to H-Net...

Executive Director Peter Knupfer

Dear H-Net subscribers:

For many of our readers, September brings the advent of a new academic year; typically, many of you reactivate your subscriptions or join a new network after a hiatus for research, service, summer teaching, or vacation. And at this time of year we experience a wave of new subscriptions especially from instructors seeking to learn and share as their classes begin.

So, we welcome you to H-Net, whether you are a veteran subscriber returning to duty, or a new reader just becoming acquainted with what we do. If you are among the latter, be sure to read the Welcome message sent you upon subscribing to a list; it contains valuable information about your postings, subscription management, the list's practices and editorial policies, and H-Net's policies and procedures.

If you need technical assistance, contact us at help@mail.h-net.msu.edu, and we'll do our best to assist you.

Let me also remind you that H-Net's free services rely heavily on donations from our readers and this year, as the economy in the US (and especially here at our home base in Michigan) struggles to recover, our needs are great and resources are declining.

If you have not taken the opportunity to donate, please consider doing so! Tax-deductible contributions can be made online at:

Thank you for supporting H-Net!

Best wishes for a productive and creative semester,

Peter
