

New art history resources on the web

Melissa Bowling

[1] The Metropolitan Museum of Art Archives releases new source on exhibition history

The Metropolitan Museum of Art Archives is pleased to announce the availability of a valuable new source of information on the Museum's history. "Museum Exhibitions 1870-2010" -

http://libmma.org/digital_files/archives/Museum_Exhibitions_1870-2010.pdf

- is a chronological list of all special exhibitions held at the Museum from its founding in 1870 to the present. Please note that this is a working document that will be updated periodically. For complete accuracy, information should be verified against primary source documents in the Museum Archives or publications in the Museum's Watson Library. We welcome suggestions, corrections or information regarding any Museum exhibitions that may not appear here. Please direct your comments to archives@metmuseum.org<<mailto:archives@metmuseum.org>>. For additional information regarding The Metropolitan Museum of Art Archives please visit our web page at <http://libmma.org/portal/museum-archives/>.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art gratefully acknowledges those individuals and organizations that have supported our special exhibitions.

Melissa Bowling

Assistant Archivist

Archives/Office of the Senior Vice President, Secretary & General Counsel

The Metropolitan Museum of Art

1000 Fifth Avenue

New York, NY 10028-0198

[2] Museums and the Web 2010 (MW2010)

the international conference for culture and heritage on-line

April 13-17, 2010

Denver, Colorado, USA

<http://www.archimuse.com/mw2010/>

Full MW2010 Program Now Online

Descriptions of more than 40 Demonstrations have been just added to the MW2010 web site. The full program is now online at <http://bit.ly/9Mzdmq>

Regular Registration Deadline: January 31, 2010

If you haven't already registered, the deadline for regular registration for MW2010 is coming up soon. Payment for regular registrations must be received by January 31, 2010, in order to get lower rates. Register on-line with a credit card to ensure your budget goes the furthest. See <http://bit.ly/5lvu6H>

Pre-Conference Workshops Filling Up

Many of the workshops at MW2010 have limited enrollment to ensure that they are great learning experiences. If you've been thinking about adding a workshop to your registration, do so soon to avoid disappointment.

Best of the Web Nominations Open January 31, 2010

We said it would be 'in January' and we should make it. We're running the Best of the Web entirely on the conference community site this year. See <http://bit.ly/dm41pD> for details, and check out the new category definitions at <http://bit.ly/ddjvTS>. Nominate your favourite site, review the sites nominated, and watch for the announcement about voting for 'MW2010 People's Choice'.

MW on the Social Networks

Connect with the Museums and the Web community on various social network platforms. See <http://bit.ly/aR8d1E> for links to where you can find us, and follow our tags: #mw2010 for conference-related things or #museweb for general items.

See you soon!

We're looking forward to catching up with all the great work going on around the world at another great Museums and the Web. We hope to see you in Denver!

jennifer and David

Jennifer Trant and David Bearman
Co-Chairs: Museums and the Web 2010
April 13-17, 2010, Denver, Colorado
Archives & Museum Informatics
<http://www.archimuse.com/mw2010/>
158 Lee Avenue
Toronto, Ontario, Canada
email: mw2010@archimuse.com
phone +1 416 691 2516 | fax +1 416 352-6025

ArtHist.net

Reference:

WWW: New art history resources on the web. In: ArtHist.net, Feb 1, 2010 (accessed Sep 28, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/32372>>.