

Michelangelo's Bruges Madonna (Florence, 10 Apr 10)

International Conference

Michelangelo's Madonna and Child in Bruges; Context and Reception

Florence, Dutch University Institute for Art History.

Saturday April 10, 2010

Although Michelangelo's 'Madonna with Child' in the Church of Our Lady in Bruges is admired by approximately 1 million visitors each year, research into the history and the reception of this masterpiece is rare. Unlike many other sculptures by Michelangelo, the Bruges Madonna has not played a significant role in the recent literature on the great Renaissance master. Acquired by Jan de Mouscron, an affluent merchant from Bruges, the Madonna can be dated to the years immediately before 1506 when she was shipped to Flanders. Apart from two of the Slaves for the tomb of Julius II which came to France in around 1550 (Paris, Louvre), the Madonna with Child is the only one of the artist's sculptures to leave Italy during his lifetime.

The Conference is jointly organized by the Dutch University Institute for Art History in Florence and the Department of Art History of Radboud University in Nijmegen (The Netherlands), and will focus on different aspects of Michelangelo's Bruges Madonna. In the lectures questions of the genesis of Michelangelo's sculpture, its acquisition as well as its devotional context in the Church of Our Lady in Bruges and the impression the image made on contemporary and younger artists both in and outside the Netherlands will be addressed.

Participation is free of charge. Registration before April 7th at www.ru.nl/arhistoryconferences/michelangelo.

The results of the conference will be published. If you are interested in ordering the book once published (estimated price Euro 25,-), you can make your interest known on the above mentioned website.

If you have any further questions about the conference please check www.ru.nl/kunstgeschiedenis or contact miss. F. Speelberg M.Phil. (Radboud University Nijmegen) at f.speelberg@let.ru.nl.
