

History of Gardens & Designed Landscapes, No. 4/2010

Jennifer Roberts

Studies in the History of Gardens & Designed Landscapes:
An International Quarterly

No. 30 (2010), Issue 4

This new issue contains the following articles:

Original Articles

The 'art which conceals': a cottage industry and the invention of Cushing's Island
Sara A. Butler

The evolution of Madrid's suburban landscape between the sixteenth and twentieth centuries
Luis Ramón-Laca

Gardens of misery and perfection: introducing an annotated bibliography
Jane Gillette

Nurseries and nurserymen in Ireland from the early eighteenth to the early twenty-first century
Mary Forrest

Josef Hoffmann's unknown masterpiece: the garden of Stoclet House in Brussels (1905-1911)
Anette Freytag

Miscellany

Editorial Board

Find out more at www.informaworld.com/tgah

Follow us on Twitter at www.twitter.com/routledge_art

Reference:

TOC: History of Gardens & Designed Landscapes, No. 4/2010. In: ArtHist.net, Sep 21, 2010 (accessed Sep 23, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/32938>>.