Deadline: Jan 1, 2022

Emily Burns

The Gilbert Chinard Prize is awarded each year by the Society for French Historical Studies with the financial support of its Institut Français d'Amérique Fund. It recognizes the best book published for the first time and with a copyright date of 2020 by a North American press in one of the two following fields: the history of French-American relations; or the comparative history of France and North, Central, or South America. Books focusing on any historical period or type of history may be considered. Critical editions of significant source materials, as well as books translated into English, are eligible.

The winner, who receives an award of $1,000, will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society. The prize may not be shared, although an "honorable mention" may be named.

To apply: Copies of books should be sent to each committee member below by January 1, 2022.
