Paul Mellon Centre for Studies in British Art - New Narratives Awards

The New Narratives set of awards are designed to support students and researchers from a diverse range of backgrounds whilst developing a dynamic community of writers and thinkers with new perspectives on British art and visual culture of all periods.

As well as generous financial support, award-holders will be provided with mentorship and guidance.

The awards consist of:

MA/MPhil Studentship

An award of £32,000 designed to cover one year of university fees and living costs of an individual undertaking and completing a MA or MPhil in the area of British art history.

Doctoral Scholarship

An award of £32,000 per year for three years designed to cover the university fees and living costs of an individual undertaking and completing a PhD in the area of British art history.

Early Career Fellowship

An award of £35,000 per year for two years designed to cover the living and sustenance costs of an early career individual who is undertaking significant art-historical research in the field of British art.

Applications are currently open and close 28 February 2022.

To apply for these opportunities applicants must use the online system at grants.paul-mellon-centre.ac.uk. Once registered they will be able to fill out the online application form and provide the details of two referees.
