Fragmentology. Biblioclasty and Digital Reconstruction (Lugano, 20-25 Jun 22)

online via Zoom and in person in Lugano, Jun 20–25, 2022
Deadline: Jun 13, 2022

Noemi De Santis

Fragmentology. Biblioclasty and Digital Reconstruction

Summer School of the Research Centre for European Philological Tradition (RECEPTIO: www.receptio.eu)

A team of the Research Centre of European Philological Tradition has developed an original method for finding dismembered manuscript leaves through a system we called WayBack Recovery. The method makes it possible to trace sales that have taken place both on Ebay (since the creation of the platform) and through dealers’ sites whose access is usually restricted to members only. The team has thus reconstructed a substantial number (42) of manuscripts of which only the disiecta membra are circulating on the market. In June and August, we organise a Summer School to teach the method to interested students.

For more info and for applications please visit: https://www.receptio.eu/summerschool22
Deadline: 13 June 2022
Contact: info@receptio.eu

Reference: