POSITION:

As a young art major in an internationally recognized faculty of design and art, we are looking for a post-conceptual artist working in the field of spatial practices and/or performance art.

You are an active artist with an artistic education (diploma, master) at an art university or similar. You have acquired additional expertise in political theory, cultural, postcolonial or gender studies or similar. You pursue a critical approach within a broad and expanded understanding of contemporary art practices, media, and contexts. Your work is contemporary and part of the ongoing societal and artistic discourses. As such, it is frequently exhibited and published internationally.

You have a substantial teaching experience and your teaching thoughtfully questions prevailing conventions and aims to raise a critical awareness of the political role of the artist and her/his practice in the globalized world and the inequalities it creates. Through your teaching you encourage students to examine hybrid artistic practices across disciplines and introduce them to contemporary cultural, social, political, and ecological issues of societies in global change. You strive for innovative teaching, new forms, and formats. You have experience in developing cross-cultural activities and cooperations. You are also interested in actively shaping together our faculty and the young art major and understand as well the necessity and value in taking an active part in the different bodies and forms which regulate and administrate our work.

The position offered is a Full or Associate professorship in Art (Professore Ordinario / Associato). It is a tenured full-time position with a teaching load of 120-180 hours per annum. Salary is highly competitive at top European standards. Applicants may as well enjoy extensive fiscal advantages.

The working place is at the Bolzano Campus and the Faculty expects its professors to take up residence in the immediate vicinity of Bozen-Bolzano.

Important: according to Italian law, you are only eligible to this position if you currently hold a tenured position on a similar level at a recognized university or an equivalent institution.

Approximate starting date: January 2024.

Teaching

The permanent professor will work in didactics and research at the Bolzano location and will perform didactic activities of at least 120 hours in the compulsory subjects of the scientific-disciplinary area ICAR/13 (Design) at the Faculty of Design and Arts as part of the Art Major of the Bachelor in Design and Arts. Teaching in all programs of the Faculty of Design and Art is conducted through semester projects as well as an extensive exchange between practice and theory. In the excellently equipped and supervised workshops, projects can be physically realized by students and teachers.

Research

In your research, you adopt a critical position, explore innovative approaches to the ideation and creation of art works, materials and related (emerging) technologies, embracing interdisciplinary and/or transdisciplinary collaborations. You will also deal with the complex and articulated aspects of art practices by including social, environmental, material and/or technological dimensions. We participate in international research projects and our work is particularly visible all over the province of Bolzano, as our interdisciplinary and hands-on approach results in many fruitful collaborations, with a strong support from the local community.

Faculty

We are a young faculty with a strong multidisciplinary and multinational approach. In our staff we have nationally and internationally recognized professionals. We have a solid network of international collaborations and high-end research and workshop facilities and are always open for new input and ideas.

The Faculty of Design and Art at the Free University of Bozen-Bolzano currently offers a Bachelor program with the two majors Design and Art, as well as a Master program in Eco-Social Design and the executive Master program 'Design for Children'.

Teaching at the faculty follows an interdisciplinary project-based model, involving different disciplines and professionals in the main Art or Design courses. The complex contemporary issues addressed by the teaching teams require keen analytical skills and stimulate research as well as the individual creation of new solutions. The projects are conceived with the aim of encouraging the acquisition of skills related to the work carried out and favoring the gradual development of a personal working method and an artistic body of work.

We carefully choose our academic personnel by hiring renowned artists, designers and theorists (such as sociologists, anthropologists or media theorists) from abroad as guest/contract lecturers or tenured professors. We are one of the world's rare universities that offer their students lectures in three languages and a trilingual qualification in English, German and Italian.

University

The Free University of Bozen-Bolzano is located in one of the most fascinating European regions, at the crossroad between the German and Italian languages, economies and cultures. Its trilingualism in teaching and research, its high level of internationalisation as well as an ideal study environment guaranteed by its excellent facilities are some of the reasons why unibz regularly reaches top positions in national and international rankings.

Region

In the provincial regions of Europe, especially those in Alpine environments, geopolitical conditions, climate warming and market forces present serious challenges while, simultaneously, offering unique opportunities for art and design. The province of Alto Adige/Südtirol offers a special cultural, historical, industrial and environmental landscape fostering the exploration of historical contexts and the development of new visions. This requires visionary qualities as much as the ability and experience in dealing with complexity and collaborative systems.
