

Doctoral or Postdoctoral Position, University of Zurich

Zurich

Application deadline: Dec 3, 2012

Tristan Weddigen

Open Position

The Chair for History of Early Modern Art invites applications for the position of Doctoral or Postdoctoral Faculty Fellow (Wissenschaftlicher Assistent) non-tenure-track, part-time (50%).

Applicants should demonstrate wide ranging regional and thematic interests in European painting, sculpture and/or architecture and art theory, 1400-1800.

Full-time faculty fellows teach at least one two-hour class per semester, organize research excursions and conduct their own independent research projects. The ability to teach and perform administrative duties in German, at the latest one year after the start date, is required. Completion of the PhD by the start date is preferred.

Employment conditions follow the guidelines as established by the University of Zurich. The three-year fixed-term contract can be renewed for an additional three years. Residency within the city of Zurich or its environs is expected.

Starting date: February 1st, 2013.

Please submit a letter of intent, a detailed curriculum vitae, copies of degrees, a summary of current and future research projects including a career plan and a maximum of three writing samples as PDF documents by e-mail to the address below, by December 3, 2012. Interviews will be held in December and January.
