"Fashion, Image, Exile: The Rediscovery of Theatre Photographer Elli Marcus (1899-1977)".

In cooperation with Cultural Anthropology of Textiles, TU Dortmund University

Please note: With the exception of the lecture by Mila Ganeva, the workshop will be conducted in German.

The recently rediscovered work of theatre photographer Elli Marcus (1899-1977), who was active in Berlin in the 1920s, Paris in the 1930s, and New York in the 1940s, serves as the starting point for a broader discussion of fashion and theatre photography in this two-day workshop. Its specific focus is on the fate of fashion and theatre photography in exile and the challenges associated with curating photographic images for contemporary audiences.

The workshop will take place on 12 and 13 June at the College for Social Sciences and Humanities in Essen. It is co-organised and hosted by Mila Ganeva, current Senior Fellow at the College and professor at Miami University (USA), and her tandem partner Gudrun M. König, Cultural Anthropology of Textiles at TU Dortmund University.

On the first day, 12 June, invited scholars and curators will shed light on fashion photography in the Weimar republic and Elli Marcus's work in exile and provide insights into curating fashion photographs. On the agenda for 13 June are female photographers' networks in exile, theater photography, and digital curating practices.

Keynote address (12 June): Britta Bommert, Kunstbibliothek Berlin, Sammlung Modebild - Lipperheidesche Kostümbibliothek: "Modebilder kuratieren"

Please register to Mila Ganeva (ganevamm@miamioh.edu) by 10 June, 12 pm.
