

2025 Amy P. Goldman Fellowship in Pre-Raphaelite Studies

The University of Delaware Library and the Delaware Art Museum, Jan 01, 2025

Application deadline: Nov 1, 2024

Sophie Lynford

The University of Delaware Library and the Delaware Art Museum invite applications for the 2025 joint Fellowship in Pre-Raphaelite Studies. This one-month Fellowship is intended for scholars working on the Pre-Raphaelites and their associates. A stipend of $3,000 is available. An additional $3,000 will be provided as a housing allowance.

The recipient will be expected to be in residence in Wilmington or Newark and to make use of the resources of both the Delaware Art Museum and the University of Delaware Library, Museums and Press. The recipient may also take advantage of these institutions' proximity to other collections, such as the Winterthur Museum and Library, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Princeton University Library, and the Bryn Mawr College Library. Each recipient is expected to give a talk on their research subject during the course of Fellowship residence.

The Fellowship is intended for those who are working toward or hold a Ph.D., or can demonstrate equivalent professional or academic experience. Applications from Ph.D.-track graduate students, independent scholars and museum professionals are welcome. By arrangement with the Yale Center for British Art, New Haven, CT, scholars may apply to each institution for awards in the same year; every effort will be made to offer consecutive dates.

Application deadline: November 1, 2024

For more information, see:
<https://delart.org/opportunities/amy-p-goldman-fellowship-in-pre-raphaelite-studies/>

Please direct questions to:

Pre-Raphaelite Fellowship Committee

Delaware Art Museum

fellowships@delart.org

Reference:

STIP: 2025 Amy P. Goldman Fellowship in Pre-Raphaelite Studies. In: ArtHist.net, Sep 15, 2024 (accessed Jul 3, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/42618>>.