

Terra Foundation for American Art Convening Grants

Application deadline: Feb 17, 2025

Lucy Pike, Terra Foundation for American Art

Terra Foundation convening grants support programs that foster exchange and collaboration, such as workshops, symposia, and colloquia.

Programs should advance innovative and experimental research and professional practice in American art and address critical issues facing the field. We also welcome requests for convenings intended to inform projects in their early stages, which will benefit from the learning and practice that can be developed through dialogue.

This program is open to organizations within and outside of the United States.

What's Funded:

- Workshops, symposia, and colloquia.
- Support for in-person and/or online convenings.
- Grants typically between $10,000 and $25,000.
- Up to $5,000 of an awarded grant may be used for resulting proceedings or publications, whether online or printed.

Eligibility:

Open to institutions with U.S. 501(c)(3) status or equivalent international organizations.

Applications from individuals are not eligible.

Priorities:

Convening grants support visual arts projects with a focus on art of the United States and Indigenous art of North America that question and broaden understandings of American art and transform how its stories are told.

Deadlines for Programs After October 1, 2025:

- Letter of Inquiry: February 17, 2025
- Full Proposal: April 25, 2025
