Jasenka Gudelj, Ca' Foscari

We invite applications for a postdoc fellowship position focusing on Antiquities of the Eastern Adriatic and Early Modern Architectural Culture. The research is part of the HORIZON 2020-ERC Consolidator Grant 2019 project titled "AdriArchCult: Architectural Culture of the Early Modern Eastern Adriatic", led by Jasenka Gudelj.

The fellowship focuses on analyzing the transmission of knowledge about ancient architecture and artifacts of the Eastern Adriatic in different European contexts between the 15th and 18th centuries. An interdisciplinary and multilingual approach will be particularly significant. An integral part of the research will also be the dissemination of the project's results as the recipient will be responsible for curating the exhibition and the scientific catalog related to the theme of the fellowship.
