International

Deadline: Jun 30, 2025

Victoria Pap

Christie's is delighted to announce the third year of the Christie's Grant for Nazi-Era Provenance Research, supporting the next generation of provenance researchers in this field.

The grant will be offered to four recipients (£5,000 each), to fund forward-thinking academic, post-graduate research into subjects related to Nazi-era provenance research and restitution. In addition, Christie's will offer two grants of £2,000 each to undergraduates who are studying Nazi-era and restitution-related topics, and who may be considering a future career or study in this area, with a view to deepening their interest in the subject.

In 2023, Christie's launched its Grant for Nazi-era Provenance Research as part of its year-long programme, "Reflecting on Restitution", organised by the auction house to mark the 25th anniversary of the Washington Principles—the 11 foundational principles which have provided a framework for handling research into and claims resulting from the widespread confiscation, forced sales and looting of artworks during the Nazi-era.

The application process is now open to students in art history or with an interdisciplinary interest in Nazi-era related provenance research.

Post-graduate submission guidelines:

Application period: 25 APR – 30 JUN, worldwide

All applications for post-graduate grants should include the below, preferably in a single document:

- A statement of how financial support - up to £5,000 - would assist in the completion of the applicant's studies. (Noting that grants should be utilised within 18 months of receipt. Grants may cover institutional/tuition fees, research-related costs or to assist open access publication)
- Curriculum vitae
- Any additional information supporting Christie's aim of increasing and supporting voices under-represented in provenance research, and to support early career development, particularly encouraging those for whom financial support will be significant in ensuring the opportunity to pursue specialized research
