

2 Doctoral Positions, History, Theory, and Heritage, EPFL Lausanne

EPFL Lausanne, Sep 01, 2026

Application deadline: Mar 2, 2026

Cammy Brothers

History, Theory, and Heritage at École Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (EPFL) Lausanne.

Two fully funded doctoral positions are available to begin in the 2026-27 academic year, working primarily with Professor Cammy Brothers (<https://actu.epfl.ch/news/appointment-of-epfl-professors-178/>).

Candidates should have a background in the history of art, architecture, or related disciplines; an undergraduate or masters degree expected by July, 2026; demonstrable writing and research skills; an interest in Early Modern art and architecture of Italy, Spain, or the Mediterranean world; and an appropriate language background (including English fluency and knowledge of languages relevant to proposed research area). Knowledge of French is not a criterion for evaluation, but successful candidates will be encouraged to learn French upon acceptance; courses are available at EPFL.

Applications should send the following in a single pdf by March 2, 2026:

- a letter of interest (1 page) indicating the candidate's background and reason for pursuing doctoral study
- a writing sample (between 5 and 20 pages), for example an undergraduate seminar paper or chapter of a masters' thesis
- a description of the proposed doctoral research project (2-4 pages)
- an academic and/or professional c.v. (no more than two pages), including full educational background and language knowledge
- the names and contact information of two references (reference letters themselves will be solicited later in the evaluation process)

Queries and applications should be addressed to: brotherslabepfl@gmail.com

Please name your file LASTNAME_ARCHEPFL.pdf.

Candidates need to concurrently or subsequently apply to the doctoral program at EDAR: <https://www.epfl.ch/education/phd/edar-architecture-and-sciences-of-the-city/> There are three possible deadlines, January 15, April 30, and September 15.
