

Two Postdoctoral Positions, History, Theory, and Heritage, EPFL Lausanne

École Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne, Sep 01, 2026

Application deadline: Mar 2, 2026

Cammy Brothers

Two fully funded postdoctoral positions are available to begin in the 2026-27 academic year, working primarily with Professor Cammy Brothers. It is a one year, renewable position.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. or be in their final year of their doctoral program with the expectation of a degree by October 1, 2026. The field is defined broadly as the art and architecture of the early modern Mediterranean world, 1100-1700, but the specific focus is open.

Deadline: Applications should send the following in a single pdf by March 2, 2026: a letter of interest (1 page) indicating the candidate's background and reason for pursuing a postdoctoral position; a description of the proposed research and writing project to be pursued during the fellowship year (2-4 pages, it can be distinct from the Ph.D. topic but it can also be a publication plan building on the doctoral dissertation); a writing sample (between 20 and 40 pages), for example a dissertation chapter, a published article, or an essay under review for publication; an academic and/or professional c.v. (no more than three pages), including full educational background and language knowledge; and the names and contact information of two references (reference letters themselves will be solicited later in the evaluation process).

Contact: Queries and applications should be addressed to: brotherslabepfl@gmail.com
Please name your file LASTNAME_POSTDOCEPFL.pdf.
