2 Grants, School of Specialization in Art History, Siena

Siena, Italy
Application deadline: Oct 9, 2026

Scuola di Specilizzazione in Beni Storico-artistici | Università degli Studi di Siena

Two grants of the amount of €1,500 each will be awarded to the first two top candidates in the selection procedures for the admission to the School of Specialization in Art History of the University of Siena.

Applications are due before Friday 9 October 2026, 2,00 p.m.

The School offers a two-year third-level course that provides art historians with advanced skills in the field of conservation, management and promotion of Art, from late antiquity to the contemporary age.

The call for applications is available online at this link: https://www.unisi.it/sites/default/files/allegatiparagrafo/beni_SSA_protocollo.pdf

Applications can be completed by registering online (https://segreteriaonline.unisi.it/Root.do), following the instructions on the Specialization Schools Secretariat page (https://www.unisi.it/didattica/corsi-post-laurea/scuole-di-specializzazione/scuole-di-specializzazione-di-area-non-medica).

Further information on admission requirements, academic calendar, courses offered and teaching staff is available on the School's website: https://www.ssbsa.unisi.it/it.

On Monday 21 September 2026 at 6,00 p.m. there will be an online information session on the School and the selection procedure (https://meet.google.com/qmo-tvsp-rdh).

International students are encouraged to apply.
