CALL FOR PAPERS

The Twenty-Third Annual Parsons/Cooper-Hewitt Graduate Student Symposium on the Decorative Arts and Design

THE PUBLICS OF ART AND DESIGN

Parsons The New School for Design, New York.

April 10 and 11, 2014.

What happens to design in public? We are seeking papers that address issues of audience, user feedback, promotion and dissemination of objects from the Renaissance to the present. How does design become a dialogue between an object and its public? How are different publics delineated by their associations with objects? Papers might address such issues as: advertising and promotion of products; magazines or other vectors of publicity; retail spaces; museum exhibitions; world's fairs; design for public spaces; theories of reception; domestication of design; or actors and networks.

Proposals are welcome from graduate students at any level in fields such as Art History, History of Design, Design Studies, History of the Decorative Arts, Cultural Anthropology, History of Architecture, Consumer Studies, Design and Technology, Media Studies, Museum Studies, etc.

The symposium's Catherine Hoover Voorsanger Keynote speaker will be Professor Michele Bogart of Stony Brook University, whose books include: Artists, Advertising, and the Borders of Art; Public Sculpture and the Civic Ideal in New York City, and The Politics of Urban Beauty.

The Keynote will be on Thursday evening, April 10, 2014 and the symposium sessions will be in the morning and afternoon on Friday, April 11.

To submit a proposal, send a two-page abstract, one-page bibliography and a c.v. to:
