The Filson Historical Society, Louisville, Kentucky, invites applications for fellowships to support research in The Filson's collections, and internships. Applications must be postmarked by February 17, 2014.

Detailed information about fellowships, internships, and application procedures can be found on The Filson's Web site at: <http://filsonhistorical.org/education-programs/fellowships-internships/>.

The Filson anticipates that Fellows will publicize the results of their research in Ohio Valley History, the peer-reviewed journal published jointly by The Filson and the Cincinnati Museum Center.

Questions about the fellowship and internship programs should be directed to Dr. A. Glenn Crothers, Director of Research at The Filson: crothers@filsonhistorical.org or glenn.crothers@louisville.edu

Founded on May 15, 1884, the mission of The Filson Historical Society is to collect, preserve and tell the significant stories of Kentucky and the Ohio Valley history and culture. The Filson is headquartered in the Ferguson Mansion in Old Louisville and houses a library, a museum, and a special collections department. The Filson's fellowship and internship program is made possible in part by the Thomas Walker Bullitt Perpetual Trust.
