

Newberry Library Fellowship Program (Chicago)

Newberry Library, Chicago, IL

Jessica Weller

If you study the humanities, the Newberry has something for you!

Newberry fellowships provide support to researchers who wish to use our collection. We promise you intriguing and often rare materials; a lively, interdisciplinary community of researchers; individual consultations on your research with staff curators, librarians, and other scholars; and an array of both scholarly and public programs. Applicants may apply for both Long- and Short-Term fellowships within one academic year. All applicants are strongly encouraged to consult the Newberry's online catalog and collection guides before applying.

We are now accepting applications for the 2015-16 academic year.

Long-Term Fellowships

Long-Term Fellowships are intended to support individual scholarly research and promote serious intellectual exchange through active participation in the Newberry's scholarly activities. Applicants must hold a PhD at the time of application in order to be eligible. Applicants may apply for 4 to 12 months of support, with a stipend of $4,200 per month.

Deadline 1 Dez 2014

Short-Term Fellowships

Short-Term Fellowships are available to postdoctoral scholars, PhD candidates, and those who hold other terminal degrees. Most fellowships are restricted to scholars who live and work outside the Chicago Metro area. Short-Term Fellowships are generally awarded for one continuous month in residence at the Newberry, with stipends of $2,500 per month. Applicants must demonstrate a specific need for the Newberry's collection.

Deadline 15 Jan 2015

For more information, including a list of available Short-Term Fellowships, please visit www.newberry.org/short-term-fellowships.
