Photography in Print (Leicester, 22-23 Jun 15)

Photographic History Research Centre, De Montfort University, Leicester, UK, Jun 22–23, 2015
Deadline: Dec 1, 2014

Gil Pasternak

The 2015 PHRC Annual International Conference will address the complex and wide range question of 'photography in print.' The conference aims to explore the functions, affects and dynamics of photographs on the printed page.

Photography in Print continues the theme of previous PHRC conferences, which have explored photographic business practices and flows of photographic knowledge. We would, therefore, like to invite abstracts for papers on these important themes of photography in print. We welcome papers not only on the printed media itself but also on its contextualising processes (e.g. techniques, reception, work practices, design and social impacts). We also welcome interdisciplinary studies from, for example science, history, anthropology, and mass-media.

Abstracts of no more than 200-300 words should be sent to: phrc@dmu.ac.uk by December 1st 2014.
