

Ars Graphica

www.arsgraphica.org

Alexandra Blanc

Ars Graphica, a project promoting the research in graphic arts.

Ars Graphica is a platform, which aims to connect international art historians working within the field of graphic arts to further the exchange of ideas and promote research projects in this field.

Ars Graphica offers diverse services. We circulate news about the graphic arts (exhibitions, symposiums, research projects, CFPs, job opportunities, etc.) on our Internet website (<http://www.arsgraphica.org>), Newsletter and our Facebook page (https://www.facebook.com/ars.graphica?ref_type=bookmark). The platform creates also an opportunity to contact and meet other field scholars as well as becoming acquainted with their research projects. Finally, we also organize visits of institutions related to the field and also, days of study in the future.

News – in an effort to circulate international news about the graphic arts, we would be very grateful if you could send us your upcoming events to the following address: ars.graphica@gmx.ch. They will be published on our Website, Newsletter and Facebook page.

Becoming a member? Any art historian interested in the graphic arts is cordially invited to join the platform. Young scholars and students are particularly encouraged to subscribe. Send us an e-mail at: ars.graphica@gmx.ch. The registration is free of charge.

For more information, please visit our website <http://www.arsgraphica.org> or contact us. We will be glad to receive any suggestion or comment.

Contact:

ars.graphica@gmx.ch

Alexandra Blanc and Christian Féraud

Reference:

ANN: Ars Graphica. In: ArtHist.net, Dec 8, 2014 (accessed Jul 23, 2025), <<https://arthist.net/archive/9048>>.