

Emaj art journal, issue no. 9

Deadline: Mar 31, 2015

Katrina Grant, The University of Melbourne

The editors of EMAJ are now calling for articles to be submitted for EMAJ 9 to be published in November 2015.

EMAJ (Electronic Melbourne Art Journal) welcomes monographic articles about specific artists or art collectives as well as thematic or theoretical analyses of art history from any historical period. Established and emerging researchers working within the fields of art history, architectural history, curatorship, politics and aesthetics, visual culture, philosophy, historiography and museum studies are encouraged to submit.

Manuscripts must be submitted by email to emaj.editors@gmail.com, as word documents (.doc) only.

Articles can be between 5000-10000 words in length (if shorter or longer please email the editors to discuss your article before submitting) and accompanied by:

- a 200 word abstract
- a brief biographical statement

For more information see <http://emajartjournal.com/submission-guidelines/>

Reference:

CFP: Emaj art journal, issue no. 9. In: ArtHist.net, Feb 25, 2015 (accessed Apr 6, 2026), <<https://arthist.net/archive/9569>>.